Axis Activity Is Increasing In Libya Area

No Indication Whether Action Presages Large-Scale Offensive Move

AXIS DIVISIONS ARE RE-EQUIPPED

Military Authority Warns That Weather Conditions Will Not Halt Action

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, April 9. — Increased Axis activity continued in Libya today but as yet there is still no indication whether the enemy action is preliminary to a large-scale offensive, authoritative British sources said today.

The forces of German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel as far as is known consist of two armored divisions and one light division, all manned by Germans. The Italians are known to have six divisions, all of which were reinforced and brought up to full strength since the last major battles on the desert.

Re-Equipping Divisions

It would be wrong, a military authority stated, to imply that the Germans and Italians have got new armored divisions into Libya and it is felt that all the enemy activity during the past months has been aimed at re-equipping the existing divisions.

This official strongly deplored published suggestions that fighting will not be possible because of the imminence of May and the resultant scorching heat on the desert.

It was pointed out that every-

British-American War Program Under Discussion In London

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 9.—Discussions of vital importance concerning British and American military strategy and war production efforts commenced in London today between British officials and Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the U. S. Army, and presidential aide Harry Hopkins.

Despite the lateness of the hour at which the two Americans left the company of Prime Minister Winston Churchill last night, Gen. Marshall and Hopkins were astir early this morning and by 10 a. m. had gone their separate ways—Marshall to confer with members of the British imperial staff and Hopkins to plunge into a series of important conferences with war production officials.

First Meeting

Accompanied by Maj. Gen. James Cheney, commander-in-chief of the A. E. F. in the British Isles, and his aides, Marshall left Claridge's after an "austerity" breakfast and drove to the Whitehall area for his first meeting with the British general staff.

Marshall was in top form despite the grimness of the weather.

He was followed a few minutes later by Hopkins, wearing a gray

Every man, woman and child in Pennsylvania will be asked to "Pledge-for-Victory" on April 16. Two British Cruisers Lost

TOTAL OF 1,100 MEN ARE SAVED

By LOWELL BENNETT
International News Service Special Correspondent

LONDON, April 9.—Loss of two British cruisers to Japanese action in the Indian ocean and the sinking of a 10,000-ton Italian cruiser in the Mediterranean were announced by the admiralty today.

One of the British cruisers lost was the 9,975-ton Dorsetshire, previously perhaps the most envied vessel in the royal navy. It was the Dorsetshire that on May 27, 1941, gave the giant German battleship Bismarck the coup de grace.

Her commander, Capt. A. E. S. Agar was privileged to give the order which sent a final torpedo into the huge Nazi dreadnaught, sending her to the bottom after a dramatic battle with ships and planes of the British navy.

1,100 Men Saved

The other vessel lost was the 10,000-ton cruiser Cornwall. A total of 1,100 men were saved from both ships.

JAPANESE BREAK THROUGH DEFENSE LINES AT BATAAN

War Department Early This Morning Announces Fall Of Bataan. Details On Situation Not Yet Complete—Forts In Bay Continue To Fight—Huge Numerical Superiority Of Japanese Turns Tide Of Battle In Bataan.

By JOSEPH A. BORS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Bataan fell before the furious onslaught of numerically-superior Japanese forces today entrapping 36,800 American and Filipino troops who had valiantly withstood the enemy for 90 days.

Announcement of the fall of Bataan was made by the war department in a special communique at 5:15 a. m., E. W. T., and a few hours later Secretary of War Stimson revealed the number of American-Filipino troops who went down with the peninsula.

"Will Be Temporary Loss"

"I believe it will be a temporary loss," Stimson said. "We will ultimately drive out these invaders. We shall not stop until this is done."

At the same time the secretary said that Corregidor and other island forts are fighting on and that President Roosevelt has left to Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright the decision for future action in the Philippines.

While details of the disastrous Japanese break through on Bataan are not yet available, Stimson said that latest information showed a total of 36,800 American-Filipino troops and contingents of United States naval and marine personnel who were encircled on the peninsula.

The end came when Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright reported from Corregidor that the valiant little band of Americans and natives on Bataan had been outflanked and that efforts to relieve them had failed.

Of the 36,800 troops trapped, approximately 17,500 were said by the war department to be Americans.

Revealing for the first time that the American forces have been on short rations throughout the battle of Bataan, Stimson said that lack of food, disease prevalent in that area and exhaustion from constant fighting played an important part in the collapse of the defenses.

The secretary added that Mr. Roosevelt yesterday sent a message to Wainwright at his Corregidor headquarters leaving to the commander entirely the decision for further action in the Manila area.

Stimson Deeply Affected

Stimson appeared deeply moved as he described the collapse of Bataan defenses at his regular weekly press conference.

"I have nothing but praise for the men who have conducted this epic chapter in American history," Stimson said.

The secretary offered no breakdown of the total number of troops trapped by the Japanese on Bataan but he said that probably more than half of them were Filipinos.

Also on the peninsula when the Japanese overwhelmed the American defenses, were 20,000 native civilians who followed Gen. Douglas MacArthur into the peninsula for safety and protection.

It was presumed that this large number of civilians were fed partly or wholly from American army stores and that this fact contributed to the eventual downfall of the peninsula.

"Our troops, outnumbered, worn

Believe United States Plays Important Role In India Controversy

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 9.—There are growing indications in responsible quarters in Washington today that the United States is playing an important role in the efforts to secure the support of India in the United Nations war effort.

Nothing is being said officially about what the American government is doing because the White House and the state department feel that the question of political freedom for India is primarily a British problem.

However, there are definite indications that Col. Louis Johnson, chairman of the American supply mission to India and President Roosevelt's personal representative there with the rank of minister, is doing his utmost to secure the support of the Indian leaders to the United Nations cause.

Seeks To Win India

Col. Johnson is believed to be concentrating his efforts on winning over the Indian leaders to cooperation in the war effort against the Axis rather than committting the American government to support of any particular plan concerning the political future of India.

He is believed to have assured the Indian leaders that the United States will send both men and materials to India to help resist the

Legislature Is Nearing Final Action

Adjournment Is Certain On Friday

Predict Deadlocks On Number Of Measures Will Be Settled During Day

EXPECT SESSION TO END FRIDAY AT 4

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, April 9.—The politically-divided general assembly approached the close of its special session today deadlocked over two major pieces of legislation, but leaders predicted agreement in time for final adjournment tomorrow.

The Republican Senate and Democratic House found themselves unable to agree on legislation liberalizing the unemployment compensation law by increasing insurance benefits to jobless workers and the sabotage prevention bill strengthening the laws for the protection of war industries. Joint conference committees of the two houses were to be set up in an effort to reach an agreement.

Disagreement On Bills

The disagreement of both bills stemmed out of the Senate's refusal to accept House amendments. Similar legislation died during the closing days of the 1941 regular session, but leaders of the two houses expressed the belief that this year agreement could be reached.

There appeared to be little disagreement over final legislation and House Majority Leader Leo A. Achterman predicted the session would adjourn sine die as slated at 4 p. m. tomorrow, barring delays occasioned by the printing of bills.

The House has amended the Senate-approved emergency "big truck" bill, but Achterman said he believed the upper house would agree to the revision. The bill was scheduled to be approved today by the House. It now provides that the secretary of highways may issue a carte blanche permit authorizing overweight and oversize trucks to transport war materials over the state highways, subject to the imposition of a special fee. The House removed the Senate provision providing for the issuance of special permits without payment of a fee.

Amendment

The amendment to the Senate bill was sponsored by Rep. Homer S. Brown (D) Allegheny. He explained that $86,600 was taken in during 1941 on special permits and $17,500 during the first three months of 1942. "I don't see why the state should lose this money," he explained. He interpreted the amendment as restricting the power of the secretary of highways to the issuance of special permits for trucks carrying only war materials. Achterman disagreed, contending the secretary would still retain authority he now holds to issue special permits for individual trucks, regardless of their loads. Gov. Arthur H. James vetoed a measure approved by the 1941 session boosting the weight of all trucks using the state highways.

Final legislative approval has been given to a measure empowering the state civilian defense organization to set up rules and regulations governing air raid precautions and blackouts and it now goes to the governor for his signature. Stiff penalties are provided for violators.

The House schedule for the final two days of the session, which is now in its eighth week, includes approval of the following Senate-enacted measures tomorrow, after being given second reading today: Legislation empowering all political subdivisions to appropriate and borrow funds to defray the expenses of civilian defense, increasing the maximum civil service age requirements of firemen and police in Pittsburgh and third class cities from 35 to 45 years, providing for one automobile license plate, and appropriating another $139,640 for the expenses of the special session.

The Senate was slated to take final action on House-approved bills authorizing third class cities to issue birth certificates and suspending for the war's duration the requirement that the state can make no purchase without the submission of bids.

"I'm delighted to be back and renew my friendship with so many people over here. I'm anxious to get to work and am going to be a busy man during the next few days."

Hopkins At Whitehall

Hopkins drove to Whitehall for a further meeting with Churchill and meetings with the war production board and the munitions allocation board of which Capt. Oliver Lyttleton is chairman.

Like Marshall, Hopkins experienced his first austerity breakfast, he said, explaining that "instead of the usual orange juice and bacon and eggs, I had prunes, a piece of flabby fish and dark bread. It was a bit different from last time, but nevertheless I enjoyed it."

The American party was quartered on the fifth floor of the hotel in modern rooms. Their aides have only bedrooms, but Marshall and Hopkins have separate sitting rooms to enable them to receive visitors privately.

The American chief of staff, who is the guest of the British government during his stay, will be the guest at luncheon today of the British general staff in a private room in a well-known hotel. Leading British general officers and all American high-ranking officers, as well as Vice Admiral Robert L. Ghromley, American special naval observer, will be present.

Hopkins has a luncheon date with Lyttelton; the American lend-lease expeditor, Averell Harriman; and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, and plans to divide his day between Whitehall and the American embassy.

"I came back and hit her over the head and just kept on hitting. My son walked into the room and said 'Daddy, don't do that.'

"I picked him up and started to choke him and that's about all I can remember. I turned out the lights later and locked the door. I wandered around downtown and I thought of catching a bus out of town, but I finally came over here to tell the police about it."

Before leaving Washington on his mission to Indian, Col. Johnson predicted to friends that the United States would "swing a big axe" in India.

He is keeping both President Roosevelt and the state department closely advised on the daily developments in the political battle in India. One of his communications is known to have resulted in Washington communicating directly with London concerning the threatened deadlock between the British government and the Indian leaders.

If India's political leaders finally agree to support the United Nations war effort, Johnson is likely to share in the credit for winning them over.

said that the spring thaw had permitted the Russians to cut a highway connecting two German sectors in the vicinity of beseiged Leningrad.)

As usual the midnight Red Army communique reported "nothing of importance" occurred along the front but word circulating in Moscow told of the recapture of an important town on the southwest front after a fierce Nazi attack by tanks and mechanized forces which was repulsed.

On Kharkov Front

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Although the locality was not mentioned by name it was believed possible the town was on the Kharkov front. The Daily Telegraph in London received a Stockholm dispatch stating Russian forces had shattered the Romanian 18th division and recaptured a fortified strong point on the Kharkov front.)

The Russian communique said two more enemy transports, one of 10,500 tons and the other of 3,500 tons, had been sunk by Soviet naval units in the Barents Sea.

On April 7, it was added, 51 more German planes were destroyed while the Russians lost 14.

The Tass (Official Soviet) News agency reported from Berne that the typhus epidemic in Berlin was growing. More than 1,250 new cases have been registered in the past two weeks and the epidemic daily is assuming more threatening proportions, Tass said.

NEW ATTACK IS MADE ON CEYLON

northeast coast of Ceylon, about 100 miles northeast of Kandy. It lies on the north side of Trincomalee Bay, and has a magnificent harbor. Heretofore the base had been headquarters of the admiral commanding the East Indian station.

Planes Over Colombo

Two planes appeared over Colombo where 57 Jap planes were destroyed or damaged by British fighter planes and anti-aircraft defenses Sunday. No bombs were dropped.

On Monday the Japanese hit against the eastern coast of the mainland, attacking two ports in Madras presidency, Cocanada and Vizagapatam. The city of Madras itself had an alert Tuesday but nothing developed.

British fighter planes went into the air to challenge the enemy planes which appeared over Colombo and anti-aircraft guns sent up bursts of fire. The raid on the Ceylon capital was of considerably shorter duration than the attack Sunday.

"An enemy air attack developed over Trincomalee this morning," a communique of the British command said.

"More details will be given later.

"First reports indicate there was no civilian damage.

"At the same time two enemy aircraft were sighted over Colombo. No bombs were dropped."

AXIS ACTIVITY IS INCREASING IN LIBYA AREA

one thought fighting would cease in Russia last November but it did not.

Weather Not So Effective

This war has shown, it was emphasized, that any preconceived notions regarding campaign weather had gone overboard.

Regarding the situation in Russia it was said that notwithstanding the bad state of the ground at present the Soviets are managing to launch a number of local offensive actions. These assaults were said to be preventing the Germans from withdrawing their troops to rest lines for the forthcoming offensive.

Electric storms are interfering with radio reception regarding the situation in Burma, it was said, making it difficult to get an exact picture. But undoubtedly the Chinese still are fighting, probably at a point west of the Toungoo-Mawchi road, it was stated.

by constant fighting and exhausted by insufficient rations and diseases prevalent in that area have had their lines broken by the enemy," Stimson said.

Stimson emphasized that Corregidor and the three other forts in Manila bay still are resisting the Japanese but he would not speculate on what action would be taken by Wainwright in the near future.

The secretary said that every effort was made to get supplies and food to the embattled Philippine army but said that those efforts were only partly successful.

As early as Jan. 17, Stimson said, American army officers arrived in Australia with orders to do everything possible to break the Japanese blockade of the Philippines.

Some Supplies Sent

Brig. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley was authorized and directed to take every step to secure food and ammunition for Gen. MacArthur's forces, Stimson said.

The secretary added that large sums of money were placed at the disposal of Hurley and MacArthur for the purchase of whatever supplies they could obtain.

Stimson said that an undisclosed number of ships succeeded in running the blockade in the Philippines but that for every ship that arrived at least two were lost.

"Because of these actions, I am glad to say the Philippine forces have never been short of ammunition," he asserted.

Maybe we should have more elections in time of peril. Nothing else makes Congressmen so eager to serve.

NEW HOPE FOR AGREEMENT ON INDIA PROBLEM

general understanding on the main points is as good as reached, the dispatch said.)

The change in the outlook of the negotiations between Britain's envoy and the Indian leaders came almost overnight, since only yesterday great pessimism had clouded all quarters in the capital. Cripps' press interview, at which he was expected to announce failure of his mission, was postponed indefinitely.

The activities of Col. Louis Johnson, President Roosevelt's special envoy to India, were believed to have played a large part in the brightened prospects of the negotiations.

How to get the most for your money when you buy

VITAMINS

▶ You know how to choose the best fruits and vegetables, the choicest cuts of meats. But what about vitamin products? They may differ as much as any other food you buy. Fortunately, there are good ways of checking up—of making sure you get the right vitamins, the right amounts, at the right cost. Here they are. Read them. Use them when you shop.

1 Look at the label. Every vitamin product is required by Government law to carry a label that gives a truthful and accurate statement of its contents.

2 Count the vitamins. Some products contain just one or two vitamins, such as A and D. Others may contain one or more vitamins of the B Complex. But, nutritionists say, six vitamins are essential in the daily diet. So Vimms give you all six—A and D, all 3 essential vitamins of the B Complex and Vitamin C besides—a grand total of six vitamins.

3 Look for minerals. Certain minerals and vitamins are natural allies. Calcium and Phosphorus, for instance, work with Vitamin D to help build bones and teeth. In Vimms you get Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron—the 3 most needed minerals, for which requirements have been established by the Government.

4 Compare the formula with U.S. Government standards for minimum daily requirements to be sure you are getting a balanced alliance of vitamins and minerals. Vimms contain enough of all six vitamins—even costly B and C—to bring the average diet above the safety line.

5 Compare the price. You'll find that Vimms give you more for your money. No product of comparable type and potency has ever sold for so little. In fact, the advantages offered by Vimms have never yet been matched at any price.

6 Try the taste. Vimms are palatable. The tiny pure white tablets have a pleasant flavor—no fishy or yeasty after-taste. You'll find that children like Vimms. They can eat them like candy, or swallow them easily.

7 Ask your doctor about the product. Have him show you how the Vimms formula is balanced according to Government standards. He knows, also, that Vimms are regularly assayed, chemically and biologically. If you've been low on vitamins and minerals, he may recommend Vimms . . . and you may be surprised how much better they help you feel.

TAXES AND WAR COSTS

GOVERNMENT'S fiscal operations have reached a scale so tremendous as to be beyond the comprehension of the average person. The Treasury's statement for March shows income tax receipts for the first quarter of the calendar year in excess of $3,000,000,000, or nearly two and one-half times last year's total for the same period. Other taxes yielded an additional $500,000,000 for the general funds.

A glance at the other side of the ledger is more startling. Expenditures in March rose to $3,420,908,000, of which $2,796,900,000 went into the war effort.

The small excess of revenues over expenditures in this one month means that until the next quarterly payment of income taxes becomes due in June, the monthly deficits will be heavy and increased borrowing will be necessary. It wasn't so long ago that some experts were predicting that it would be impossible until far in the future for government spending to reach its present level, which is at a total rate of $33,500,000,000 a year for national defense alone.

This figure is resassuring of industry and labor's ability to produce and would seem to leave little doubt that the $50,000,000,000 goal set by President Roosevelt for 1942 in turning out ships, planes, tanks and other implements of war would be reached. It leaves no doubt also of the financial sacrifices that are involved through new and heavier tax impositions.

WHEAT ALCOHOL

A new outlet for surplus wheat may be developing in plans for the production of industrial alcohol, vital element in the manufacture of munitions.

Industrial alcohol ordinarily is made from black-strap molasses, which cannot be used to make sugar, but under the pressure of war demands "invert" molasses (liquid sugar) has been used to increase the output of alcohol.

The distilling industry is being turned to the production of this industrial alcohol and already is producing at the rate of nearly 100,000,000 gallons annually. Grains are being employed at a saving of more than 500,000 tons of sugar annually. About half the industry remains to be converted to war production by equipping distillers of crude whiskey with additional facilities.

When the program is complete the beverage distilling industry will consume approximately 90,000,000 bushels of corn annually compared to a normal need of 30,000,000 bushels. With the current emphasis on increasing livestock production it is anticipated that considerable quantities of wheat may be substituted for corn.

SNACKS FOR WORKERS

America has been long addicted to its "three squares" a day but that established custom may soon be discarded due to experiments in defense factories.

A Yale expert made tests at one of the large war plants and found that two brief snack periods, one in mid-morning and one in mid-afternoon, along with a well-balanced cafeteria meal at noon, not only increased the workers' output but also lowered the accident rate.

Since then several companies have established eating facilities in their plants equipped not only to serve a full meal but to provide snacks between meals. Service wagons move up to the workers' benches carrying coffee, hot dishes, sandwiches, pastry, ice cream and pop. The worker gets a quick bite without losing much time.

In the great wheat fields in the West, before mechanization, employers were divided into two classes—those who stuck by the old-fashioned three squares and those who provided mid-morning and mid-afternoon snacks. There were no college professors around to measure results.

But in the light of these recent experiments it seems to be established that the farmer who gave his hands five minutes at 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. for refreshments got more wheat pitching out of them than the one who didn't.

BATTLE FOR OIL

A great many military strategists, amateur and otherwise, have expressed the belief that the Nazi offensive, if and when it comes this spring, will be directed toward the rich oil fields of the Near East rather than against Russia proper. They believe that an effort will be made merely to hold the German lines in Russia while the offensive effort is directed to the South.

The most common reason given for this purported strategy is that Hitler badly needs oil, that the production of the Rumanian fields is not enough and he must get new oil wells this summer or confess failure.

There can be no suestion that Hitler badly needs oil and that the Near East fields would be a great boon to him. And these fields have a double value to him. Their capture would not only replenish his own shrunken oil supplies but would cripple the supplies of the United Nations and put them on the spot in his stead.

The Japanese have succeeded in getting possession of nearly all the important Far Eastern fields, and even if the United Nations recapture the wells this summer they will be useless for many months to come. So if Hitler could get the wells in the Near East the United Nations in Europe and in the Orient would have to come to the United States for their oil. We have plenty of it, indeed a surplus at this time. But the joker in the situation is that this oil would have to be transported for thousands of miles across the Atlantic and the Pacific before it could be used to attack the Axis. This would require more and more tankers, and the hope of making this Near East capture later may be what has impelled Hitler to order his subs to specialize in the sinking of tankers off the Atlantic Coast of the United States.

If the belief of the allied and neutral military experts that Hitler will strike into the Near East is a sound one, then we are indeed entering on another battle for oil, the winning or losing of which will have a big effect on the length of the war.

Treasury now has the right to borrow $60,000,000,000 more and is expected to do so by December, 1943. After that the sky will be the limit, presumably.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN BABY WON'T PLAY IN PEN

The baby pen serves to keep the baby who is beginning to climb, creep and even to walk a little, from under the mother's feet, and renders him safer from hazards and drafts. But he may not care to say in his pen.

Writing of her daughter 11 months of age, a mother states: "She used to stay in her play yard and play with her toys or just sit quietly and watch me at my work. Lately, however, she screams when I put her in the play yard. I have never used the yard to punish her and I am sure there is no fear responsible for this action.

Throws Toys Out Of Pen

"Before I put her in the play yard I place there an aluminum kettle full of small toys she has always liked. But the only interest she shows in them is to take them out of the kettle, one by one, and throw them on the floor, then she starts to whine and cry. Today I thought I'd try ignoring her when she did this but at the end of two hours I took her up fearing she would make herself sick. I have never made a practice of holding her or carrying her around during the day but lately that is the only way I can quiet her.

"Please don't think I am exaggerating the situation, because I certainly am not. Few people seem abl or willing to give young mothers the advice they need so desperately today. I find that most doctors and nurses try to laugh off a young mother's questions and think that telling her not to worry automatically solves her problems.

"I get most of my information from books but this one problem the books don't cover adequately. I have clipped and saved many of your articles to use for future reference and I hope you will advise me on my present problem. A stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed."

Doctor's Answer

You have almost described my first grandchild at your child's age, and it was a very real problem to the mother for a few months.

Your child cries to get you to amuse her as you do because of the loss she feels of this satisfying experience when you don't. She finds great pleasure in being carried around when she can see so many new things and have the grand feeling of being moved about in your cuddling arms.

Instead of letting her cry in the pen alone for long periods, let it be for periods of 5 or 10 minutes at first, then gradually lengthened ones. Post a schedule. Follow it. Be with her to amuse her at first about as long as she is left alone. Continue with about this same length of time with her while you gradually lengthen the time away from her. At first, have the play yard in sight of you at work. As you must tidy up another room, take her along with you. Let her have a few things with her to pushabout.

Only occasionally should you carry her about and at irregular intervals. Expect her to complain and cry some. Try to harden yourself to it. She must learn she can't manage you. Good luck.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. What do you think of the parent who, in writing an excuse for a son or daughter known to have played hookey, put down "Illness"?

A. I think that parent has little regard for moral integrity for himself or the child; or for law and order in the school.

The Automobile Workers' Union has opened the spring capitalist plowing season with a proposition to hold family incomes to $25,000 annually for the duration of the war.

Just a few questions now and we will be ready to vote.

What becomes of the butlers, the first maids, the second maids, the governesses, the gardeners, the hostlers, the cooks and chefs who draw their wages from the rich?

What becomes of the social workers, the experimenters, the flossy front uplift organizations, the "foundation" workers who draw their wages or their support from the rich?

What becomes of the waiters at the Stork club? The captains and crews of the yachts? The chauffeurs? The opera? The Theatuh?

MANNERISM

"Are mannerisms very annoying or am I at odds with the rest of humanity?"—A. E.

Answer: Mannerisms, I think, are the most potent cause of boredom. A graceful hand extended in gesture in conversation, a nod of the head or a lift of the eyebrows may be characteristic of the conversationalist and add to her charm; but such mannerisms overdone or repeated are interpreted to be affectations and are not well received. Among the more annoying are either a drawl or too rapid speech, dramatizing every story told, waving of hands in a fluttering attitude, "Oh, my darling" the listener and at the same time giving her a slight nudge.

On the stage or screen, mannerisms of certain actors get on the nerves of sensitive listeners and one of the chief faults of directors is their persistent demands for repetition of a sneeze, a stammer, an odd pronunciation, a grotesque intonation or some peculiar action because it once created a laugh.

THE AMERICAN'S CREED

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed, a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation in many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon these principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity, for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag and to defend it against all enemies.—Boy Scout handbook.

A cigarette manufacturer has asked the government to increase the tax on cigarettes. He claims that kind of a tax would hurt the least. Something in that, judging by the way the manufacture of cigarettes is increasing every day.

Discuss Depression At End Of War
Advance Planning Will Meet Tests
Getting Out Of Soup Was Long Job

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Whether or not our government economists' advance planning will prove effective in cushioning the country against the shock of peace at the present conflict's end remains to be seen. A lot more of it is being done, however, than featured our last war period 20-odd years ago.

We hadn't had much of a war then for so long that even our slickest wiseacres didn't realize what a jolt an abruptly-arrived-at peace can give to a nation's trade and industry following a spell of strife on a sizeable scale. Folk who are old enough to remember about it will recall that the slump wasn't immediate that time. There was a mild little depression but it was brief. Then the boom started and we thought it was prosperity. Following its collapse all experts promptly began figuring intensively upon schemes to get us back to normalcy, as President Harding expressed it. Once in the soup, though, it's a now recognized impossibility to get out except by a long, painful swim.

The economic sharks 'idea now is to keep us from getting in again at all, as a sequel to today's world rumpus.

Another Program

Among other agencies, our National Resources Planning Board, one of President Roosevelt's executive set-ups under Frederic A. Delano's chairmanship, with Charles W. Eliot as director, is just out with a program it believes will enable us to navigate our next tureenful of post-war soup successfully, without going overboard and getting scalded and more than half drowned.

For one thing, the NRPB submits that our transportation facilities are practically obsolete—railroads, highways, waterway equipment and especially aviation, for peacetime usage. Not, indeed, that aviations' obsolete, but it's almost wholly undeveloped. The NRPB reckons that its future's possibilities are greater than the auto's were in the days when the surface gasoline wagon was young.

Our terminals are clear out of date, too, according to NRPB; they've got to be reconstructed from the ground up.

Furthermore, our cities need to be largely rebuilt, eliminating slums.

President Hoover, a couple of decades ago, recommended a public building schedule, not necessarily for immediate adoption, but to have on tap, ready for utilization on short notice, to sop up unemployment in any economic emergency, and maybe it was a good notion, but it hadn't been doped out in sufficient detail to put into prompt effect at that juncture. It's true that, under Herbert's auspices, Uncle Sam slapped up government edifices at a tremendous rate in Washington, but it was too local an activity to meet so fierce a situation. NRPB proposes to be loaded for bear before the lightning starts to strike.

There'll be a drawback, to be sure. Our war debt will be so enormous that the government'll squirm at piling on still more for reconstruction, but "Phooey!" says NRPB in effect. "This is something that's got to be attended to, no matter what it costs."

Demand, But—

And look, adds the board, at how civilian demand will have piled up by the war's end; supplying that'll require all the labor in sight. I admit that this argument doesn't appeal to me personally. I don't doubt that there'll be the demand, but there was the last time also. What good's a demand if the would-be customers can't foot the bill?

NRPB makes another remark that doesn't register, so far as I'm concerned. It points out that we'll have to scrabble like fury to feed starv-

Even if you, a high school boy, do think you are a hit with the girls, don't fail to get up when a girl enters a room. Your popularity will last longer if you are polite.

The World and the Mud Puddles

JUST MORE VOTES.

Has anyone considered how much it is costing and is going to cost the government of the United States to ration this and that product; how many men and women it is going to take to ration sugar, for instance, to say nothing about automobiles, tires, clothing, typewriters, radios, refrigerators and the thousand and one other things that the Priority Board has imagined should be rationed? It is a great racket, along with the other rackets, for the sole purpose of making just as many votes for the New Deal as possible.

Take sugar, for instance. We grow sugar cane in this country and make sugar from this sugar cane. We also make sugar from beets. The beet sugar commodity is a very large one. The balance of our sugar is grown in Cuba, Porto Rico and Hawaii, and there is probably just as great a reservoir of sugar in those Islands as there ever was. Why should there be any shortage of sugar in this country?

Some wise New Dealer has said that it takes a lot of sugar to make alcohol and soft drinks like Coca Cola. That may all be, but if the liquor business and the soft drink business is going to take all the sugar we can import, we are bound to have a sugar shortage, come rain, come shine, and no one believes that. This sugar business is all predicated upon war and gives to the New Dealers a great opportunity of employing more government servants, and thereby making more votes for themselves. It is not an economic proposition; it is a Simonpure political one.

And then when it comes to automobile tires. Why are not we using our tremendous oil reservoirs in the making of rubber products. There is a great How-do-you-do being raised just now in that the Standard Oil Company is being charged with selling its process of rubber manufactured from oil to Germany and not permitting it to be used in this country. You can always depend upon the present administration throwing dust and if this is not a dust throwing proposition, I have never seen one. The directors of the Standard Oil Company are probably just as good Americans as any in or out of Congress and just as anxious to develop any process that they have for the manufacture of mercantile products, and if the tire manufacturers have not seen fit to make use of oil, it is high time that they were doing so.

Incidentally, I understand that some of them are preparing to make synthetic rubber. I do not know why they call rubber made from oil synthetic. All anyone has to do is to walk around an oil field and he will discover that the soles of his shoes very much resemble rubber soles when he is through with his walk.

War hysteria does certainly give to the New Dealers one gorgeous opportunity of making votes, but sometime the worm turns and the people of this country are not altogether foolish.

HAPPIGRAMS

By ERICH BRANDEIS

"Joint income tax returns by husbands and wives will tend to defer marriages, elude marriages and lead to divorces."

Thus spoke a witness, representing the Federation of Business and Professional Women, at a hearing before the House ways and means committee in Washington.

So joint returns will lead to divorce!

Imagine two people happily married for twenty years. Imagine them having made separate returns up to now.

Comes the joint return. Says Mary to John: "John, with this new return we'll have to pay fifty dollars more in taxes. I'm going to divorce you."

Imagine the judge granting the divorce on the grounds of taxes!

Imagine two young people in love. He makes fifty dollars a week, she twenty-five.

"Will you marry me, darling?"

"No, sweetie pie, not with joint tax returns!"

What rot!

Who ever heard of a love letter being written on an income tax blank?

CLIMALENE SAVES SOAP, SAVES WORK

Front Line Surgeons Work Under Serious Handicaps In War

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service
Staff Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA, April 9.—The American pilots' chief interests here are their planes, their ground crews and their flight surgeons who take care of them if they are ill or wounded.

Such front line surgeons often work under the most terrible conditions, calmly taking care of the men under bombing or machine gun fire.

Their heroism is impressed on the brightest pages in the history of every war and this one is no exception.

Among the most intrepid surgeons is Lieut. Lawrence Braslow from Los Angeles, whose field outfit is a model of compact perfection. He can do amazing work in surroundings fit only for jungle beasts.

The last war produced a great advance in surgery technique. This one is producing a marvelous advance in the medical aspect of surgery and among the new aids of surgeons must be listed sulphanilimide and its compounds. This startling drug prevents gangrene and many other infections."

In the last war if a shrapnel wound broke bones, drains had to be used. Now sulphanilimide powder is sprinkled in the open wound and a cast can be placed on the broken limb or other fractured part of the body.

New Drugs

This drug is also given internally and tablets are now being placed in the pilots' jungle kits, each of which also include a bolo knife, fishing line, hook and bait, three boxes of water-proof matches, hard tack, corn willie, a mosquito net and a tube of tannic acid.

The sulphanilimide also prevents ostemyletis of bone infections, while its first cousin, sulphaquandine, beats acute dysentery.

The surgeon's first step in field surgery is morphine to relieve pain, followed by something new in this war, intravenous injection of pentothal sodium which produces sleep so the surgeon can operate.

In the treatment of extensive burns, good old sulphanilimide comes in again as a wet pack to prevent infection.

The last war produced few if any blood transfusions in the field. Now dried plasma makes them possible. Plasma is the liquid part of the blood without cells. It makes up for the fluid loss in bleeding and is better than blood transfusions for burns. Surgeons carry this stored blood with them.

All of this means that many men who died in the last war, would, in a similar situation, recover in this one.

Braslow's wife is also a physician and he says he wishes she were here to help him.

Asked what his reactions are to operating under shell fire, the surgeon said:

"I can't think about danger because I'm too busy, and the wounded men must have been in more danger or they wouldn't be wounded."

To Present Play At Plaingrove

Pupils Of Consolidated School To Stage Comedy On Friday Night

The Plaingrove high school will present a comedy in three acts, Friday, April 10, in the Plaingrove consolidated school auditorium. The play is entitled "Oh, Promise Me". The cast chosen is as follows:

Elmer Hammerschmidt, as Seth Miller, a lawyer; James Hohmann, as Furber, a butler; Robert Stevenson, as Barry Hollis, a young millionaire; Emogene Minor, as Mrs. Sue Hollis, his aunt; Dorothy Hohmann, as June Hollis, his young sister; Evelyn Maxwell, as Kathleen, the cook; Stella McCandless, as Ann Turber, a young actress; Jenny Rico, as Patsie Linden, a dancer; Gloria Schepp, as Mrs. Linden, her mother; Pauline Rodgers, as Gladys Vance, a dream girl; William Burns, as Ralph Sanders, a man with a purpose; Madge Neely, as Mrs. Jones, a young mother.

Old Philadelphia custom house, now a national historic site, is an outstanding example of Greek revival architecture. It once was the second bank in the United States.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police, watching for traffic violators, are not permitting spring grass to grow beneath their brogans. Observation Wednesday afternoon showed many of the cars uptown decorated with "red greeting cards". Mayor Charles B. Mayne has many times excused "first offenders", but few who have received more than one exemption have won a second exemption. Some persons visit police headquarters sergeants in the hope they may be able to win clemency. However, the sergeants are unable to do anything but collect fines. Traffic court is held at nine a. m. each morning and it is there that reasons are given why tags should be excused or paid for.

Sanitary Policeman Chauncey Davis has been devoting a portion of his time to seeking autoists who have started the "annual nuisance"—tossing garbage on green plots along city streets. This not only destroys the appearance of a vicinity, but also spreads disease. There is no reason why any person caught doing this should not be fined.

HARRISBURG — A 237-year-old law may lift the ban from Sunday sales of liquor in Pennsylvania unless that act, which prohibits serving of warrants in the state capital on the Sabbath is amended. The law, passed in 1705, was brought to light recently when an attorney asked that indictments for Sunday sales against four clients be quashed because of the old law.

A PERSONAL MESSAGE FROM THE FOUNDER OF THE J. C. PENNEY COMPANY:

A TREMENDOUS TASK LIES AHEAD OF US!

Today America is at war. Now, in wartime, because of the tremendous job ahead of us, we must learn again to work hard and to live simply — to put into the preserving of America what we once put into the building of it — to return to the old ways of Thrift and Savings that were the general rule at the beginning of this century.

We feel that the Penney Company is peculiarly well equipped to make a substantial contribution toward the Thrift and Savings of the nation—because the Penney Company knows from long experience what thrift is all about.

Thrift is nothing new to the Penney Company — it is our stock in trade. When the Penney business was founded, in 1902, hard work, and spartan living were the general rule. Our first little store in Kemmerer, Wyoming was dedicated to Thrift, and all through the years, as our business has grown, Thrift has continued to be our guiding principle.

THRIFT AND SAVINGS ARE A BIG PART OF THE JOB

The Penney Co.'s practice of Thrift and Savings is evidenced in everything we do: We buy for cash and sell for cash; we make no deliveries; we eliminate all costly frills and extravagances; we operate on an extremely small margin of profit per transaction; we buy at the source in the most economical quantities; we save at every turn! All this means that now when Thrift and Savings mean more than ever, it will pay you, it will save precious dollars for you, always to shop first at Penney's.

WE REDEDICATE OURSELVES, TODAY, ON OUR 40th ANNIVERSARY, TO THE SERVICE OF AMERICA

We rededicate ourselves to Thrift and Savings. We rededicate our 1600 stores, which now stretch from coast to coast, to the great job of helping American families to continue to live well for less.

THE PENNEY WAY IS THE THRIFTY WAY—THE THRIFTY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Salvation Army Band Will Come Here Saturday

Territorial Staff Band Of New York City Will Give Concert Saturday Evening

Local friends of the Salvation Army are looking forward with expectancy to the appearance of the famous Territorial Staff Band of New York City, which will give a concert in The Cathedral, Saturday evening.

This band is composed of thirty pieces, all of them trained musicians, and is directed by Col. Norman S. Marshall, band leader; with Major George Granger, bandmaster; and Major William Bearchell, deputy bandmaster and chorus director.

The band was organized a half century ago, and has played in many cities and towns in the United States, and in addition has visited England twice and Canada on several occasions.

The band shows its versatility during the music festival by laying aside its instruments and forming a male chrous, rendering many difficult selections.

Bureau Of Mines Halts "Gold Rush"

Refutes Claims About Mysterious "White Metal" For Making Steel

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The bureau of mines today put a stop to another California "gold rush."

The "gold" in this case is a mysterious "white metal" supposedly capable of making steel and iron exceedingly hard. No such metal exists, according to Dr. R. R. Sayers, director of the bureau.

What with the war, said Dr. Sayers, prospectors have been flocking west in quest of the "long lost" metal, and what's even worse, they have deluged his outfit with samples.

The "white metal" has proved more elusive than the "fountain of youth," Dr. Sayers added. Tales of its legendary qualities have been handed down from generation to generation, but tests conducted by the bureau during the past 30 years showed that the materials were all well-known ores.

The samples originate chiefly in California and Nevada, Dr. Sayers said, but most of the western states are represented.

Among the legends existant is that pioneers heated the axles of their springless wagons while in contact with the "white metal" and that the axles became "glass hard." Then they would wear at least three times longer than ordinarily. Another legend is that wagon tires treated in this manner would "ring like a bell" when suspended and struck with a hammer.

Dr. Sayers said there are several other stories going the rounds, but none are based on fact.

According to Dr. Sayers, the ores submitted have proven to be nothing more than "altered diabase, olivine, pyroxenite, obsidian, basalt, amphibolite, pyrite quartzite, magnetite, tourmaline, sandstone and, in fact, almost every known rock."

ing Europe. That's a cinch, but it's equally a cinch that starving Europe won't be able to pay it.

NRPB furnishes another hint, though, that's thought-inspiring, though the thought isn't altogether pleasant.

Don't let's, urges NRPB, demobilize our armed forces too fast, and don't let's discontinue war production too fast. We'll gum our industries if we do.

It sounds logical.

Maybe we not only shan't HAVE to be too speedy. Maybe we shan't be ABLE to be.

If we lick the predatory powers so flat that they never will have the capacity to hop us again, okay; that'll be a peace permanency. But is it believable that it can be done so completely?—with the human race what it is?

We thought we'd done it in 1918, and now look at us!

After THIS experience will we ever dare to get back again to old-time normalcy?

Even 6 per cent is a fabulous profit on 100 billions, and why should anybody get any profit for saving his country?

SPUD PICKING CHAMP

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG—The Pennsylvania potato picking champion belongs to a 40-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Mabel Wrestley, of Somerset county, who defeated a dozen male potato pickers in a contest last fall. Mrs. Wrestley was awarded the trophy when she appeared at the 26th annual State farm show in Harrisburg recently.

Discarded Shoes Concealed $1,500

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., April 9—When Mrs. M. D. Kellfelz gave young Luther J. Champion a pair of her husband's shoes, she did not know that tucked in the toes of the shoes was $1,500 in bills placed there by Kellfelz.

Authorities reported today that Champion had been arrested in Chattanooga, Tenn., on a charge of simple larceny. The shoes already were badly scuffed, but that didn't matter. What did matter was that only $650 remained of the $1,500 Kellfelz had cached in the shoes — for safety.

Learns Sister Is Taken Prisoner By Japanese

Prisoners of the Japanese at Santa Tomas, the oldest Catholic University in the Philippines are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald A. Updyke, according to word which has reached Mr. Updyke's mother in New Jersey.

Until this word was received, the Updykes had not been heard from since the United States went to war with Japan. Mrs. Updyke is the former Myrtle Frey, of Ambridge, and is a sister of Nathan K. Frey, who resides at R. D. 1, New Wilmington. Mr. and Mrs. Updyke has been residents of Manila for about ten years, ever since their marriage on the island. He is an engineer for the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Corp.

Santa Tomas is in the mountains, located about 200 miles from Manila. Missionaries to the islands are reported to be prisoners there, also.

When first taken to the university, Americans with servants were permitted to send them out for food, but, it is understood that it is no longer permissable to do this as the food situation in that district has become serious.

The agricultural prosperity of Egypt is wholly dependent upon artificial irrigation, there being practically no rainfall, according to the department of commerce.

Treasury Against Proposal For Stiff Levy On Earnings

By GRIFFING BANCROFT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 9—Members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee today disclosed that the treasury has vigorously turned thumbs down on proposals for a special stiff levy on above-normal individual earnings.

Such a tax has been advocated by witnesses before the committee as well as by several members. It contemplates an impost as high as 90 or 95 per cent on that part of an individual's income which is above what he returned during a base period before the war.

Thus, if a workers received a pay boost, he would have to turn back virtually all of it to the government under the plan which members submitted to the treasury.

"The treasury has told us that it is opposed to any such idea," Rep. Robertson (D) Va., said. "They say that it would not be feasible to enforce such a tax, and that there are too many people who had no income, or virtually no income, before the war and who are getting a relatively small income now."

It would be unfair, Robertson said, to subject these re-employed to a confiscatory tax, and it would be very difficult to exempt them from a broad levy on above-normal incomes.

TWO BRITISH CRUISERS LOST

ing and torpedo-carrying planes in the course of extended action in the Indian ocean during which enemy planes bombed the great naval base of Trincomalee on the island of Ceylon.

(Editor's Note: In announcing loss of the cruisers, the British government confirmed merely one of a host of Axis claims. The Berlin radio asserted that Japanese forces had landed at an undisclosed spot on the bay of Bengal, which could be in India proper or Burma, and said that Nippon troops "which are now north of Akyab" were advancing along the road to Calcutta. A recent Chinese announcement that the Japanese claimed to have sunk 21 and heavily damaged 23 merchant vessels in the Indian ocean, as well as shooting down 60 planes in recent activities. All of these assertions went without confirmation in any reliable quarter.)

Italian Cruiser Sunk

The Italian cruiser was torpedoed and sunk. It brought to five the number of Italian vessels of this class sent to the bottom since the war began. Italy entered the war with seven 10,000-ton cruisers.

An admiralty communique confirming earlier Japanese claims that the two cruisers had been lost read:

"The board of admiralty regrets to announce that the cruisers Dorsetshire, commanded by Captain A. W. S. Agar, V. C., D. S. O., and the Cornwall, commanded by Captain P. C. W. Manwaring, were sunk by Japanese air attacks in the Indian ocean.

It is known that more than 1,100 survivors, including the commanding officers of both ships, have been picked up.

"No further details are yet available.

"Next of kin will be informed as soon as possible."

Both ships were fairly new, the Cornwall having been completed in 1926 and the Dorsetshire in 1929.

The Italian cruiser sunk in the Mediterranean was heard to "break up" after being hit by a submarine torpedo, the admiralty said.

Sinking of the Dorsetshire and the Cornwall brought British cruiser losses to 18 out of 56 since the outbreak of hostilities, not accounting for wartime building.

head as he lay in his crib. A moment later, Holmquist shot himself in the chest.

The shooting occurred in the home of Mrs. Florence Maier, Holmquist's sister, in Shaler township, where the Holmquists had been living since Mrs. Maier's husband died last October. Police Chief Joseph Seelnaucht of Shaler township said Holmquist left this note:

"This is for the best. It was the only way. Forgive me for the wrong I've done. May God have mercy on my soul."

Mrs. Maier said Holmquist was nervous and restless. "He was depressed by a doctor's report and planned to go to West Penn hospital as soon as a bed was available," she added.

'PLEDGE-FOR-VICTORY' WAR BOND CAMPAIGN IS SET FOR APRIL 16

amounts weekly or monthly, thru established bond and stamp selling agencies, in Victory for our country.

For Uncle Sam needs financial assistance. The sale of War Bonds and Stamps is one of the principal methods upon which the government is relying to furnish funds to fight the war. Furthermore, by the sale of War Bonds, present purchasing power of the people will be deferred, thus reducing the danger of inflation and higher prices.

By a recent order the name "Defense Bonds and Stamps" has been changed to "War Bonds and Stamps." While many of the forms used in the campaign, including the bonds themselves, still bear the word "Defense," yet today they are evidence of America's fighting determination to take control of the war, and the pledges on "Pledge-for-Victory" Day will prove it.

While a large group of women have already volunteered to assist in the Victory Canvass, others able and willing to help are urged to call Mrs. Bolinger at 2506.

Americanism: Telling little patriots to use less sugar; alcohol makers using sugar instead of grain because the profit is greater

It's your money—and you've a right to spend it as you like. But in times like these, when all of us must make every dollar count, it's downright unpatriotic to be wasteful or extravagant—to pay a penny more than you need to pay for the things you require.

Bear that in mind when you go forth to buy your new spring clothes. Here at the Goldman store you couldn't be extravagant if you wanted to be. Our policy is to keep prices low on clothes—and to sell them that way. Our fine collection of apparel—for women, for men and for the kiddies—has been priced in strict accordance with that policy. Our profits have been cut to the bone to maintain that policy.

To the thousands of thrifty, sensible men and women (people who don't believe in throwing their money to the fishes) we're the favorite store for clothes.

If you, too, believe in saving precious dollars come and see us. Goldman's famous prices are uniformly low whether you pay cash or buy on credit. And there is no charge for credit!

Wednesday evening, at the home of Victoria Gizzi, of Ray street, the Prudence Clements Missionary Society, of the Epworth Methodist church, had their regular monthly meeting.

Lois Reno gave the talk on the study book.

After the close of the business session, a delicious lunch was given by the hostess.

Postpone Meeting

The monthly business meeting of the Moody Men's Bible class, First Methodist church, which was to have been held this evening, has been postponed indefinitely.

Congregation Meets At Second Church

Annual congregational meeting of the Second United Presbyterian church was held Wednesday evening in the church dining room. After a tureen dinner, the congregation elected elders with Elders C. D. Parker, A. L. Hanna and A. L. Johnson being re-elected. John C. Syling, superintendent of Lawrence county schools, was elected as a new elder.

Mrs. H. C. Anderson was re-elected to the board of trustees and Richard Davis was elected to that board. High points of the various reports were that the contributions to the church had been greater than at any time in the past 12 years and that 73 new members have been received into the church.

The church, just recently painted and carpeted, is debt free with an unusually large balance in the treasury. The congregation also voted that an appropriation be set aside for the establishment of a junior choir.

A gift, in the form of a sizeable check, was voted to the pastor, Rev. J. Calvin Rose, in appreciation of his efforts.

Salvage Drive Meeting Friday

Industries To Be Represented At Meeting At The Castleton

Lawrence county industries large and small will be represented Friday night, April 10, in The Castleton ballroom when the salvage drive for the county will take form. Speakers will include R. D. McGiffert, assistant regional director of the industrial salvage section of the Bureau of Industrial Conservation, War Production Board, at Phil delphia; J. C. Deibel and George P. Rhodes, Jr., field representatives of the WPB's industrial salvage section in charge of the western Pennsylvania program.

The meeting is one in a series of meetings to interest every plant and business place in this area. The purpose is to get industrial scrap into production by selling it to junk dealers, and to wreck idle and useless machinery for scrap.

Roger E. Jewett, executive vice president of the Greater New Castle Association, the sponsoring body, has asked that each representative be prepared to make an estimate of the amount of material salvaged to date.

New Castle Planes Flew Over Parade On Monday Night

According to a statement sent to The News today, the three planes which flew over the Army Parade in the downtown area on Monday night, were from the New Castle Airport, and were donated by Findley C. Wilson.

They were piloted by the following fliers: Francis Masson, Findley Wilson and Paul Taylor.

To Remove Rails At Johnstown, Pa.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 9.—City council moved to reclaim approximately 260 tons of scrap steel in abandoned street car lines authorizing preparation of a WPA project to cover the work.

Councilman Daniel J. Shields told his fellow solons that the project will cost the city "practically nothing", pointing out that the rails recovered will net the city more than $5,000 as scrap metal which will be enough to provide the sponsor's share of the project.

General Manager Warren G. Reitz of Johnstown Traction company, which owns the rails, said his firm would be happy to give the city title to the steel in return for relief from the obligation of maintaining the streets.

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Peace be unto this house.

"The harvest indeed is plenteous, but the laborers are few; Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth laborers into his harvest."—Luke 10:2.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for April 12 is St. Luke 10:1-24, the Golden Text being Luke 10:2, "The harvest indeed is plenteous, but the laborers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of harvest, that he send forth laborers into his harvest.")

The time in which this lesson took place was December A. D. 29. The place was Perea. St. Luke tells us that the Master appointed 70 men to carry the gospel to various towns and villages where He Himself would later come. The time was growing short, the Lord knew, and He must quickly tell as many as possible about His gospel, and give them His message. St. Luke is the only one to tell us about this.

These 70 men were to go forth two and two, for company. They were sent "as lambs among wolves", Jesus told them. That is, they were innocent and filled with the message they had to tell, but probably had no idea how many people would be angry at their "nerve", as we would call it today, in hearing such an important message from these simple, ignorant, illy clothed persons, as they doubtless were.

There were to "carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes; and salute no may by the way." This latter did not mean that they were to be uncivil, but the custom of the country was to stop, salute each other, and to chat about this and that, and the 70 had no time for that. They must work quickly to get the message delivered before their Lord came.

Peace Be to This House

They were to go to a private house, and when it was opened to them, they were to give the Jewish salutation, "Peace be to this house." If the man of the house was at home and was hospitable, they should rest in that home, "eating and drinking such things as they give; for the laborer is worthy of his hire." Meaning that they earned the hospitality by their words and deeds, for they were to "heal the sick therein, and say unto them, The Kingdom of God is come nigh unto you."

If they were not received cordially, however, the disciples were to shake the dust of that place from their feet, but they were to be sure also to say that "the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you." And "woe unto those cities," Jesus told them. Tyre and Sodom were considered wicked cities and punished for their sins, but "it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sodom at the judgment, than for you," said Jesus.

"He that heareth you, heareth Me," the Master told these men, "and he that despiseth you despiseth Me; and he that despiseth Me despiseth Him that sent Me."

The 70 went their way and after a time came back, meeting Jesus at an appointed place, it is supposed. They were joyful, for, said they, "Lord, even the devils are subject to us through Thy name." And Jesus answered, "I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven." We surmise that his meaning was that He saw the evil giving way to good, and the work of the evil one doomed.

Nothing Should Hurt Them

"Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you." Faith would keep them safe, but they should not rejoice about that, but be glad "because your names are written in heaven," the Master said.

"In that hour Jesus rejoiced in spirit, and said, "I thank Thee, O Father, Lord of Heaven and earth, that Thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes; even so, Father, for it seemed good in Thy sight.

"And He turned Him unto His disciples, and said privately, Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see."

"For I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them."

Princes, kings, wealthy, learned and good people would doubtless have given everything they had to have been with Jesus while He was on earth, to have heard Him speak, to have received His message from His own lips, and to have done the work of these 70 chosen men who were appointed to do. They were not rich or well educated, but they were honest, simple folk who understood their Lord and were willing to risk all to do His bidding.

Gallant Defenders Of Bataan Are Forced To Give Up Struggle

By CAPTAIN JOHN H. CRAIGE
Written Especially for International News Service

After 90 days of siege such as the world has seldom witnessed, Lieutenant-General Jonathan Wainwright's gallant little American-Filipino army this morning gave up the struggle on Bataan in the face of overpowering Japanese assaults that have been practically continuous during the past week.

Doom Foreshadowed

For some time the doom of Bataan has been foreshadowed. Since General Douglas MacArthur's strategic retreat from the mainland of Luzon Island to the rocky peninsula that flanks Manila Bay on the west, it has been evident that if the forces there could not be relieved they must eventually be lost.

Meantime they have fought as besieged garrisons have rarely fought in history. From their fortress islands of Fort Drum, Fort Hughes and Fort Frank, they had stopped the slant-eyed legions of the Mikado in their tracks and wrote a deathless page of glory in American history, denying to the Nipponese the harbor of Manila, best in the Orient, for more than three months.

No Doubt Of Outcome

Since MacArthur disengaged his forces from overpowering Japanese columns driving toward Manila from the north, south and east simultaneously and concentrated them in the Bataan-Corregidor position, there has been no doubt of the eventual outcome.

The Bataan garrison was a fortress force. Its mission was to fight as long as possible and resist to the end, delaying the main Japanese timetable as long as possible. Most previous estimates had placed the length of time such a force could hold out at a maximum of about 30 days. First MacArthur, then Wainwright continued to fight long after this limit was passed.

Outnumbered at least ten to one by Japanese legions, it was technically impossible for the fighting Americans and Filipinos to resist. Two months ago they ought to have surrendered by all the rules of war. But in the face of dwindling food, water and ammunition, they kept on fighting as did the marines at Wake, long after all hope had vanished and the desperate nature of their task became daily more and more apparent.

Dauntless Battle

By their dauntless battle, the American garrison of the Manila Bay positions have delayed the program of Japanese aggression far beyond what was originally considered possible. Since MacArthur freed his columns from vastly superior Nipponese forces early in January and marched them by flanking movements to the positions previously prepared on the Bataan Peninsula, the war in the Far East has washed past the Philippines in an astonishing pattern of thrust and counter-thrust.

The powerfully fortified Hong Kong and the supposedly impregnable Singapore fell. Japanese columns over-ran the Dutch East Indies. Still the American-Filipino garrison held its ground.

In the Japanese empire's front yard, it seemed impossible that the Yankee forces could resist the forces thrown against them. One Japanese crack general, Marshal Homma, committed hara kiri because of his repeated failures to overcome American resistance. Another leader, General Yamashita, came. Still the siege continued.

Forts Still Hold Out

The Corregidor fortifications as well as Fort Drum, Fort Hughes and Fort Frank are powerful positions, carved deep in the sandstone of rocky islands, barring with their giant guns the entrance of Manila Bay. They still are holding out.

Dispatches record that little damage has been done to them by repeated Japanese air bombardments.

With Bataan evacuated, they will be under fire from Nipponese howitzers mounted on commanding positions on the Miraveles mountains. Barring relief, their fate is certain, but they may still prolong resistance for several weeks, months, perhaps, further delaying the Japanese push to the southward and giving Americans continued thrills of pride.

Lad Of 9 Helps War Effort By Fattening Pigs

(International News Service)

GOLIAD, Tex. — Nine-year-old Raymond Toreck, a (Goliad) farm boy, has his own ideas about how he can help win the war. After surveying the possibilities open to one with his particular qualifications, he decided that the most helpful thing he would do would be to produce food for the army and put any profit from the enterprise into defense bonds.

Armed with character testimonials from friendly 4-H members Raymond walked into the Farm Seiurity Administration's local office and asked for a loan of $9.00. He then shopped about until he found a farmer with two pigs which would meet his requirements and traded his borrowed money for the pigs. Four months later Raymond sold his pigs, which he had fattened from "little squealers" into 190 pound hogs, for $34.50. A neat profit of $26.40 was left over after repaying the loan to the government. Of this he invested $18.75 in a defense bond and used the remainder to buy another pig.

What does he think about our war strategy? He just feeds his pigs and turns the profit over to the government.

News Briefs From City Hall

Council today met in the city building and instructed Mayor Charles B. Mayne to enter into an agreement whereby the city will lease from John C. Bell, secretary, state banking, the Westmoreland Chemical Co. building, for the storage of street department equipment. The city had to move its equipment from the old nail building because of George street industrial expansion.

Walter Tewell, city policeman, who was inducted into the U. S. Marines several days ago, today formally applied for one-half his police pay for his wife, Matilda. Council referred this request, as they did the others, to the city's legal bureau and Mayor Charles B. Mayne. According to a reported state law a city employe is entitled to one-half his wage for dependents if inducted into military service.

While the Army Day addresses were being made in the Cathedral Monday night, someone entered the U. S. marine truck and stole a Colt 45-calibre automatic revolver, property of Recruiting Sergeant Johnny Dean, a former boxer. So far, the revolver has not been receovered. Believing the person is afraid now to return it either personally or as he deems best to Ed. Fritz, sports editor, The News, Fritz said he would ask no questions and maintain secrecy if the revolver is delivered to him for Dean.

City bureau of building permits granted during the past 24 hours follow: H. E. Gill, garage, 121 Hazel street, and John A. Panella, repair dwelling, Center and Jefferson streets.

James McKay, colored, imbibed too freely of the bowl that intoxicates last night, and he wandered into the Central fire department and demanded a taxicab. Patrolman Mike Fazzone accommodated the Scioto street man. He called the police car, and today in police court Mayor Charles B. Mayne charged McKay $10 taxi bill.

Ahem! The war struck the police. Yes, folks, in order to buy a new uniform nowadays, a policeman must have a priority right, according to a woolen company's notice sent to police headquarters today. Not only are uniforms difficult to obtain, but they are almost prohibitive in price, judging from what some of the boys in blue claim.

Police headquarters received a report today that the car allegedly driven by Joseph Cercelli of Edenburg skidded early this morning on the Grant street bridge, struck a section of the bridge and the driver sustained a cut above an eye which was attended to in the New Castle hospital.

Burglars last night attempted to enter the Amoco service station at East and North streets. The tumbler was pulled partly out of the lock. Apparently the burglars were frightened away before they could wholly remove the tumbler, unlock the door and enter, according to Chief of Detectives Ralph A. Criswell.

Price Fixing To Be Extended

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service
Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Early extension of the far reaching price fixing authority granted to Administrator Leon Henderson, with the tendency toward a general freezing of prices and wages, was forecast today by influential administration senators.

Sen. Walter F. George (D) Ga., chairman of the Senate finance committee, said that price-fixing must move rapidly into a wider field, while Sen. Joseph O'Mahoney (D) Wyo., predicted wage control as well as general price freezing.

"It is obvious that Mr. Henderson will have to move very fast into a wider field and apply price ceilings to many more commodities, and probably will have to go beyond this into a general price ceiling such as that recommended by Bernard M. Baruch," said George.

"It seems apparent that we are not going to check the tendency toward inflationary prices, which are rapidly becoming acute, unless powers granted by Congress are applied as far as possible."

While the price control law does not grant authority to fix wages, agencies of the government dealing with wages are directed to seek to stabilize them.

With President Roosevelt now studying freezing of wages, some senators believe that a wage-fixing bill in inevitable.

Council Grants Sewer Permits

Alexander Votes Against Allowing Connection To City Sewers From Townships

Although his colleagues voted favorably, Councilman Joseph D. Alexander today voted against granting permits to several owners of property in Edgewood avenue, Neshannock township to connect with the city's sewer system in North Mercer street.

He based his negative report on the condition of the sewers as stated by the city engineer and also on the condition of the sewage disposal plant over which he has jurisdiction.

His colleagues voted favorably because it was developed by Attorney J. C. Gilfillan that years ago the city adopted legislation granting permission to Edgewood avenue properties to be connected with the city's sewer system.

They took the position that "it was not a case of freezing anyone out but the ill condition of the North Mercer street line" and indicated that existing legislation will be repealed thus prohibiting future connections.

Engineer G. R. Throop presented a sorry picture of the sewer in North Mercer street between Euclid and Englewood avenue and Councilman Joe Alexander submitted a drab picture of the disposal plant conditions.

In fact, C. H. Young of the state health department, Harrisburg, yesterday plainly told council that proposed plant repairs, which are estimated will cost $106,000, must be made. Council plans to spend $20,000 this year.

The annual cost to non-residents for sewer service is $7.80. It was said in council that city residents probably paid an original cost of $60 and yet must pay the $7.80, or approximately that much, annually.

Future requests will not be granted if council repeals asserted legislation on city books. City Clerk C. Ed. Brown said there was no ordinance calling for this. A resolution passed years ago was said to have provided today's acquiescence.

ASTRONOMER INDUCTED

HARRISBURG—Elmer J. Reese, of Uniontown, who with Clarence L. New Construction Work Is Curtailed

War Production Board Bans New Civilian Work Not Essential To War Program

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 9. — The war production board today was carefully examining civilian projects already under construction after banning new work not essential to the war program.

The W. P. B. said that while the stop-order applies only to construction not yet commenced, projects already going up "may be stopped if the scarce materials to be used in them can be put to more effective use in the war program."

Order Provides

The board's order specifically provides that:

1. No residential construction—except for maintenance and repair work—may be started without permission if its estimate cost is $500 or more.

2. No new agricultural construction may be started if the estimated cost is $1,000 or more for the particular building or project involved.

3. No other construction, including commercial, industrial, recreational, highway, roadway, sub-surface and utilities construction, whether publicly or privately financed, may be initiated without permission if the cost of the project amounts to $5,000 or more.

"You can't just shut off all building," W. P. B. Chief Donald Nelson said. "Some has to go on for the health and safety of the people. However new houses will be at a minimum except in defense areas."

Must Secure Permission

If the average citizen wants to build a new home now, he must apply through the local office of the federal housing administration for authority to start construction. W. P. B. urged, however, that only emergency applications be filed during the next month, as it is anticipated that authorization will be given only for emergency project.

W. P. B. officials stressed that the order does not affect ordinary maintenance and repair work, even though the cost may exceed the $500 limitation on residential construction.

Defense housing programs conducted by the various government agencies, of course, will be unaffected and construction of new homes in defense critical areas will be permitted to continue, if the builders obtain priority assistance for materials under the existing procedure.

Nelson said that his office will probably get about 10,000 or 12,000 queries as "people all over the country will be wanting to know what to do about building in various stages of completion."

Garden Hints

Success in growing vegetables is usually assured when the amateur designs the garden wisely, plants it carefully with good seed, uses sufficient fertiliser, combats pests, and cultivates regularly.

Six or eight rhubarb plants will be enough for the average family. Clumps may be purchased at seed stores if necessary but oftentimes can be obtained from neighbors for little or nothing, because rhubarb plants are improved by being divided when they become good-sized pieces with a sharp spade, and plant them again with the crowns just under the surface.

Sometimes it is difficult to keep radishes free from little worms which eat into them before they are harvested. If this trouble has been found in the garden in the past years, it will be advisable to sprinkle soot or tobacco dust freely along the rows where the radish seeds are to go, working it into the ground before the seed is planted.

Beginners frequently make the mistake of sowing several long rows of lettuce at one time. Then they have much more than they can eat for a week or two, after which there is none. The right plan to follow is to sow a short row or two every ten days, so that there will be a constant succession.

Beets frequently come up too thick in the drills, necessitating thinning out. Pull them carefully and transplant in another row.

Plan for successive crops. There is no good reason why corn should not be provided for until frost, and peas grown in September.

Britain's Oldest Fighter-Pilot Is Killed In Action

(International News Service)

LONDON—Britain's oldest fighter pilot, 40-year-old Squadron Leader P. F. McGevor, has been killed in an encounter with a Nazi bomber with whom he had a long-standing feud.

With more than 8,500 flying hours to his credit, McGevor was stationed at an aerodrome on the east coast of England where a certain enemy bomber had attacked objectives almost daily.

Day after day British fighter planes rose to intercept the bomber as it came over and dropped its bombs. But each time it managed to evade action and get back to Germany.

After a while it got the name of "the Perisher" from the men stationed there—and they all swore they'd get it some day.

Receives Alarm

Among those whose job it was to intercept bombers was McGevor who was on patrol over the area when the alarm "the Perisher's coming" was given.

He closed in on it, delivered a few short machine-gun bursts, and had the satisfaction of seeing it dive into the sea.

"I've got the Perisher at last," he was heard to call over the telephone.

But that was the last to be heard of fighter-pilot McGevor—and the last to be seen of him.

It is believed the bomber must have gotten in a telling shot just before being forced down and McGevor followed it into the sea.

WANT A GARDEN?

Just now war gardens are a topic of conversation. A lot of folks will tear up a front lawn and plant vegetables and get little for their effort. Others will plant gardens in tillable soil but forget the garden needs care. A lot of folks will put in a garden that pays big dividends and a gentleman who visits the court house now and then made an offer on Wednesday.

He has five or six acres in Shenango township of good land. If anybody wants to cultivate it he will let them have the land free of charge, and furnish all seeds necessary. His return for the land and seeds would be 50 per cent of the crop.

SMOOTH PLASTERING

It may be because we are such a dub at the art of plastering that a good piece of work attracts our admiration. After an hour's work with plaster and a trowel in our hands you can find plaster everywhere including the chandeliers.

As nice a job of plastering as we've seen for some time is that done on the corridor of the court house. The white coat is on and the job has that smooth workmanlike appearance that comes from skilled workmen.

ANOTHER VERDICT

Another verdict was reported on Wednesday, this one in the case of John Powell against Archie Antinossi. Powell asked $5000 damages for injuries received when he claimed he was hit by the car of the defendant in the ground adjoining the Cavert Wire Company of Ellwood City. The jury returned a verdict of $2600 for the plaintiff.

The case of Harold M. Leach versus Mary M. and Cassie J. Brothers went to trial in court room number two Wednesday. The plaintiff claims a fee for the sale of property he claims the defendant gave to his agency for sale.

From New Castle they went to Pittsburgh where a group of similar cadets are being gathered today. This evening they will be the guests of the Pittsburgh Elks at dinner and the theatre and late tonight or early Friday will entrain for their assignment post, Maxwell Field, Alabama.

Lupino Was Stage Star In 1642, Old Poster Discloses

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD—Ida Lupino, only active member of the "Royal Family of Greasepaint", which has a stage record of 300 years, today was displaying a faded and tattered poster advertising the talents of the first Lupino to play before an English audience.

Claiming the priceless advertisement was almost certain proof that her ancestors introduced Punch and Judy to English audiences, Miss Lupino showed the poster to friends on the set of her new picture, "The Hard Way".

Georgius Luppino—they spelled it with two "p's" in 1642—appeared at the Black Raven inn in West Smithfield. He was billed as a "motion master" and advertised that he would present:

"Bel and the Dragon newly arrived from Italy, besides several jigs, sarabands, and country dances to the admiration of all spectators together with the merry conceits of Squire Punch and Sir John Soendell, with entertainments of singing and dancing and several naked swords performed by a child of eight."

Several museums have made bids for the poster, the actress said.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT ELECTION

Editor News:

Dear Sir:

Superintendent of schools Dr. C. C. Green is retiring this June with a service record of forty years in educational leadership and supervision. He has directed the school affairs in New Castle for the past sixteen years with exceptional ability. Dr. Green succeeded the late Dr. Ben G. Graham, who was superintendent of the New Castle schools before leaving for the broader field of Pittsburgh.

On next Tuesday, April 14, the school board will meet to select a superintendent from three applicants on file, a man qualified through experience and disposition to successfully administer the duties of superintendent of our public schools for the next four years. The selection is of vital importance to everyone in our community, and of interest elsewhere as the New Castle schools have a state-wide reputation and standard of excellence to uphold.

Selection of an applicant with the personality and ability of previous superintendents is the task confronting the local school board at this time. Recently the school board at Greensburg, Pa., under similar circumstances had 80 applicants for the position of superintendent of schools.

New Castle is entitled to the privilege of making a selection from a greater number of highly qualified applicants when consideration is given to the importance of the position, the reputation of our schools, and the salary paid.

C. L. SHIRA,
Member School Board.

Kiwanis Club Hears Of Drive To Secure Scrap

Ross D. Rosenberger Addresses Kiwanis Club At Noon Luncheon

OTHER ACTIVITIES ENLIVEN MEETING

Ross D. Rosenberger, county chairman of the "Salvage for Victory" campaign to secure vitally needed scrap for war purposes, addressed the New Castle Kiwanis club at its luncheon meeting, Wednesday at noon.

The campaign will start on next Wednesday, April 15, when a thorough canvass of Ellwood City and Ellport will open the drive. The county has been divided into subdivisions of each township, and borough, and the different wards of New Castle. Ellwood and Ellport will be canvassed on Wednesday and Thursday, he stated, and the other boroughs in the county on Friday and Saturday.

The week of April 20, the campaign will be carried out in the city of New Castle, and in the ensuing week, the different townships will be called upon.

Lawrence county's quota is 6,000 tons of scrap, he explained, and if every person does his part, the drive will be successful. People are not being asked to donate their scrap, but to sell it to the junk dealers at a fair price.

The meeting was one of the most interesting in some time, and was enlivened by the presence of a real live goat, who also turned out to be a rather obstreperous one. He was secured in Neshannock township by a committee composed of Fred B. Wolford, Jim Mayberry and John Hodge, and Rube McKibben and Dave Victor, who had been absent from the meeting last week, when the membership campaign opened, had to take the goat back.

President William R. Hanna and Secretary L. C. Mantz were elected delegates to the International Kiwanis convention in Cleveland, on June 14-18, with J. J. Alexander and C. M. England as alternates.

John R. Hodge, a member of the club who has just enlisted in the navy and is awaiting a call to service, which is expectedly immediately, was presented with a handsome gift by the club, and the best wishes of the organization during his period of service with his country.

War Workers Are Urgently Needed

Government Asks That Quota Of Typists And Stenographers Be Doubled

Miss Garnet Rhodes, local secretary of the Civil Service commission has been informed by government authorities that typists and stenographers are ungently needed in Washington, and the quota from the New Castle district is asked to be doubled.

Good pay is paid these workers, and anyone willing to serve his country in this critical emergency is asked to communicate with Miss Rhodes at the New Castle post office.

A general knowledge test will be given in typing and dictation, where the requirement is 96 words per minute.

HARLANSBURG

MISSIONARY LADIES MEET

A goodly number of ladies of the Ellen Bell Missionary society met at the home of Mrs. Pearl Rodgers for an all-day meeting on Thursday, April 2. The day was spent in quilting, with a bountiful tureen dinner at noon.

Devotionals were led by Mrs. Helen Cameron followed by a discussion on the second chapter of St. Luke. The subject for the day was "Chosen." Mrs. Thompson had the foreign topic and Mrs. Stoughton and Mrs. Byers gave talks on the home topic which was "The American Indian." Mrs. Pearl Byers then conducted a short business session.

The May meeting will also be an all-day meeting with Mrs. Helen Cameron as hostess.

CLASS PARTY

Members of the Rev. Humphrey Bible class held their regular monthly social and business gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rodgers on Friday evening, April 3. After a short business session games were greatly enjoyed, after which delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and her aides. The next meeting is to be at the home of Minnie and Jack Doloughan on Friday night, May 1.

HARLANSBURG NOTES

Mrs. Ada Gillespie has returned to her home here after spending the winter months with her sister, Mrs. Harriet Macom of New Castle.

Mrs. Mary Ewing of Turtle Creek spent her Easter vacation with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. James Humphrey. Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Sigler and son, Jimmie, were also recent guests in the same home.

Miss Emma Hunt of near Rich Hill is spending a few days visiting in this community.

Warren Boyle has been confined to his home for the past week, ill with scarlet fever.

SCOUT TRAINING IS HANDY

Girl Scout training came in handy to two prize winners in the national hi-school board fashions contest whose designs are featured in the April issue of the American Girl magazine, published by the Girl Scouts for all girls.

A special prize was awarded to Girl Scout Joan Bartz of Buffalo, N. Y., for her use of easily obtainable cotton fabrics in a pique and gingham dress. Scout skill in utilizing scraps and bits of material was shown by Mary Honningford of Evansville, Ind., whose telephone pin with a dangling felt-covered memo pad won first place in the jewelry class.

SEA-GOING GIRL SCOUTS

At the end of 1941 there were 283 Girl Scout Mariner "ships" in the country, a slight increase over 1940. Mariners are senior scouts who wear distinctive nautical blue uniform and who sail all types of craft from canoes to ocean-going schooners.

BOYS AND GIRLS WEEK

Girl Scout councils all over the country are cooperating with the National Boys' and Girls' week committee on plans for the 1942 observance of Boys and Girls Week, April 25 to May 2.

MEETING PLACES FOR GIRL SCOUTS

Statistics recently compiled show that almost half of the nearly 30,000 Girl Scout troops in the country—43.8 per cent to be exact—hold their meetings in school houses. Twenty-eight per cent of the troops meet in churches. The rest meet in Girl Scout houses, community centers, club houses, libraries, municipal buildings and private homes.

Sunday, May 17, American Day

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—President Roosevelt by proclamation on Wednesday designated Sunday, May 17, as "I Am An American" day, and urged that the day be set aside as a public occasion "for the recognition of all our citizens who have attained their majority or who have been naturalized during the past year."

Stating that it is even more essential in time of war than in time of peace that a people should fully understand the form and genius of their government the president called upon federal, state and local officials and various patriotic, civic and educational organizations to take part in exercises to impress upon all citizens, native born and naturalized, "the duties and opportunities of citizenship and its special responsibilities in a nation at war."

Tax Reduction Move Is Delayed

No Action At Present Legislative Session On State Personal Property Tax

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 9.—Reduction of taxes in Pennsylvania today must await the action of another special session on next year's regular session.

The Senate served notice that it intends to pigeonhole for the rest of the session the measure approved by the House Monday by a vote of 161-5 suspending until two years after the war the payment of the four-mill state personal property tax. The measure would have saved taxpayers approximately $27,000,000 a biennium. The tax has been in effect since 1935.

Senate Democrats attempted to force the measure out of the state government committee, to which it was committed following House passage, but were defeated on a straight party vote of 25-13. Their argument that surplus funds "piling up in the state treasury" made tax reduction feasible proved unsuccessful.

Republican Floor Leader James A. Geltz termed the House bill "a political move" and contended that the state's financial situation did not warrant tax reductions at this time. A letter was read from Deputy Attorney General E. Russell Shockley terming the House bill as not within the scope of the governor's call and therefore unconstitutional. Shockley added that enactment of the measure would "throw the state's finances into a chaotic condition."

Gov. Arthur H. James has stated he is opposed to any tax reductions at the present time. He has promised to recommend tax decreases if the state's financial situation is sufficiently bright at the end of the present fiscal year (May 31) to warrant tax reductions.

Democrats are fearful he will call another special session for this purpose shortly before the general election.

Forecasts War To End In 1945

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 9—"The war will end in 1945."

Take the word of T. J. (Jack) Kelly, national missionary for the Spiritualist Association of America, who was attending the Illinois meeting of the association today.

Basis for the information is the "inner being," according to Kelly who said he forecast early in 1941 the war with Japan.

He said he had warned the country that the war would break during peace negotiations; that the Japs would swoop down without warning that they (the Japs) would come down from the clouds.

"It will take 2,000,000 men to take back from the Japs what they have won from us," the missionary said, "and if England doesn't give in as they should to India, it will cost us even more."

He also warned that if we don't trump up more patriotism, loyalty and sacrifice "we are apt to find ourselves on the losing end."

WASHINGTON, April 9—Admiral Harold R. Stark, former Chief of Naval Operations, said today that he would leave for London "very soon" as he called at the White House where he received citation of the "Gold Star" from President Roosevelt.

NORTH BEAVER CLUB TOPIC "BEAUTY SPOTS"

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reed of the Mt. Jackson road entertained in their home Wednesday the North Beaver Garden club membership, with the president, Frances Fullerton, presiding over the opening business period. "Beauty Spots I Have Visited" was the program theme.

The program was in the hands of a committee of five, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brewster, S. G. McCullough and Charles Wallace. The musical feature was planned by Mrs. Charles Wallace, who presented Glenn Reed, pianist. He delighted the group with his selection Les Sylpheus by Bachmann.

"Beauty Spots I Have Visited" prompted short talks pertaining to this idea which were given by Charles Wallace and Mrs. J. W. Brewster. Others also participated, giving their views on the subject, which resulted in a most interesting discussion. Beauty spots ranging from our own community to the coast centering on trees, flowers, water, animals, etc., as each related the most impressive beauty spot they had seen.

Mrs. Dale Andrews displayed a shell of a large green turtle, which she had brought from Florida. The size indicated the turtle weighed approximately 400 pounds. Other shells were also displayed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Brewster of the Mt. Jackson-New Castle road will receive the club on May 13.

Gas Restrictions Increased By WPB

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The war production board today increased its restriction on deliveries of gasoline to filling stations in the "curtailment area" from a 20 per cent slash to 33 and one-third per cent reduction.

Beginning April 16, filling stations which had been receiving 80 per cent of their average deliveries will be permitted to receive only 66 and two-thirds per cent of their normal supplies.

WPB officials said that increased transportation difficulties were responsible for tightening the curtailment order.

Baseball's Bambino Fighting For Life

"Babe" Ruth Is Rushed To Hollywood Hospital; May Have Pneumonia

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, April 9.—"Babe" Ruth, the mighty Bambino of baseball fame and the hero of a generation of school boys, appeared today to be winning his fight for his life at the Hollywood hospital where he was rushed yesterday in critical condition.

Ruth's personal physician, Dr. R. Nichol Smith, announced at the hospital that the former New York Yankee outfielder was "considerably improved".

Ruth's wife was the only visitor admitted to Ruth's room since he was taken to the hospital. She kept constant vigil at her husband's bedside throughout the night.

"It is too early to say that he might not take a sudden turn for the worse," Dr. Smith said, "but for a man who was so dangerously ill as he was when brought to the hospital, he is responding nicely."

Ruth was rushed to the hospital yesterday in an ambulance from his hotel when his temperature shot up as high as 104 degrees during intermittent chills and fever.

He immediately was placed in a pneumonia jacket and treated for pneumonia, although Dr. Smith said at the time he was not sure exactly what was wrong with Ruth except that it appeared to be a "pulmonary condition".

Became Ill Tuesday

The ball player, in Hollywood to play himself in a baseball picture based on the life of Lou Gehrig, became ill Tuesday night when he suffered a three-hour chill and fever which left him in serious condition. His temperature at times reached 104 degrees.

He was taken to the hospital yesterday when he failed to show improvement.

Dr. Smith listed a number of contributing factors to the ball player's condition. He said that Ruth had not fully recovered from injuries in an automobile accident in New York several months ago.

The diamond hero observed a rigorous dieting schedule when he arrived in Hollywood last February to reduce his weight for his movie role.

Ruth trimmed his weight down to about what he weighed when he was the teammate and rival of Lou Gehrig for home run honors when both were star Yankee players. Ruth's appearances before the camera called for strenuous workouts, hitting home runs and running the bases, all of which contributed to his present condition, the physician said.

In addition, Ruth gave unsparingly of his time for personal appearances at army camps and benefits, and recently broke the record for defense bond sales in Los Angeles.

Wood Defends Masters Toga

Sam Snead Is Top Choice; Odds-Makers Have Hogan 4 To 1 Favorite

TOP GOLF EVENT TO START TODAY

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NATIONAL GOLF CLUB, AUGUSTA, Ga., April 9.—Big Craig Wood, National Open golf champion for the duration, today began defense of his Masters title, knowing that this one probably will be held from here on out for a similar indefinite period.

As a couple of the contestants changed from their service uniforms into their golfing garb, we watched golf in a war year, and noted the smallest field in the nine-year history of the event.

Most of the old guard are entered and the gypsies of the winter circuit who were eligible for the Masters tournament are on hand in force.

Wood Not Hot

Wood was not among the red hot favorites as Jimmy Demaret, the 1940 Masters champion, and Tony Penna left the first tee as this year's starting twosome, but the big blond from Mamaroneck, N.Y., had his following by virtue of being the only man ever to win the Open and the Masters in the same year, coupled with his winter of rest with just enough golf of late to prime him for the battle.

The top choice among the majority was Sam Snead, with Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson close behind and Wood next. The professional oddsmakers, however, had Hogan as the 4 to 1 favorite, with Nelson next at 5 to 1 and the rest strung out to the rear.

The hand-picked field totalled only 42 of the amateurs entered, two—National Amateur champion Bud Ward and former British amateur champion Charlie Yates—were in this competition by virtue of furloughs from their service posts.

In that connection it should be recalled that no amateur has ever won this event and it can be added that none will for a long time. The professionals are too tough to let an amateur slip in, unless another Bobby Jones comes along and none is in sight, including the original insofar as the Masters is concerned.

Jones To Compete

The greatest of the amateurs in the late lamented golden age is entered here in his own tournament again in his one annual competitive appearance, but will be lucky to finish at all much less among the leaders. He and his putter long since have lost their threat to the rust of disuse.

He and Champion Wood teed off in their twosome in mid-afternoon on the first of four 18 hole rounds slated for the participants through Sunday. There are no qualifying rounds—inasmuch as entrants automatically qualify on past performances—and it is medal play all the way.

The possibility of a record-breaking score was foreseen by some of the more or less expert observers, a score that will supplant Ralph Guldahl's 279 of 1939 when he beat back the field on this course with a par of 72. It is a fairly easy and a tough course by turns with big, but very fast greens to shatter the hopes of those who lack the touch.

FILLING THE BILL - - By Jack Sords

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

What's new in sports today?

Among third class cities, New Castle is a veritable boxing incubator. In checking over the personnel parading along Leatherlist Lane, I was slightly startled at the list of current big timers and near stars who served most of their apprenticeships here not too long ago.

Sammy Angott, the lightweight commander-in-chief, showed titular traits in several of his New Castle jousts. The Little Washington scrapper was labeled a future champ by several localites. To this day, Sammy credits New Castle with being one of his favorite prepping quarters.

Pittsburgh's Harry Bobo, who leaped into the limelight by virtue of a one-round kayo over the highly touted Lem Franklin, displayed his ability here, too. I believe that Harry's last amateur setto was fought here with Joe Biro, the Youngstowner, occupying the corner opposite Bobo.

The much heralded Billy Soose got his fistic baptism in the Elks club here. That was his initial and lone appearance in New Castle. Sergeant Mike Raffa, the blond West Virginian, emptied his fistic kit here a number of times. Now a service man, Raffa is still engaged in the clouting sport. He's strictly big time now.

"Sonny" Horne, the Niles beauty who turned in his amateur card several months ago, did practically all of his spring training here. He fought more times here than in any other fistic spot. Horne, who should move within the shadows of the middleweight crown, notched his 13th straight win a few nights ago, whipping Freddie Wilson, Ray "Sugar" Robinson's stablemate.

Billy Murray, a classy mittman, is setting the pro fight steps on fire. Billy, smart, cool and young, was another favorite amateur here. Johnny Como, the bouncing ball from Meadville, discarded the simon pure set recently and is doing exceptionally well; so is Ernie Pelaia, the Monaca boy and Pete Spotti, all star attractions locally.

There are undoubtedly quite a few more who learned some of the intricacies of the art here. The aforementioned are all carving a wide path in the game. There is only one sad note about this story. In serving as the practice field for present greats and near greats, New Castle, for some mysterious reason, has not succeeded in graduating one of the home town maulers into the center of the melon.

"Bucky" Walters, the Cincy Reds' pitching gem, is equipped with a fast ball, a sinker, two kinds of curves, a slider, an exceptionally good change of pace and something worthwhile above his shoulders . . . Jimy Bagby, Cleveland's pitching hero in the 1920 world series, will be an umpire in the Piedmont loop this season.

A New York sporting good store has worked out a plan whereby it pays 50 cents in defense stamps for each dozen used golf balls turned in, regarded of the condition of the pellets. The idea could bze employed elsewhere . . . The Pacific Coast league player limit has been reduced from 25 to 20 this season. . . . Ten minor leagues have disbanded since the outbreak of war.

VAUGHN, DiMAB HIT

(International News Service)

WILMINGTON, Del., April 9—A prevue of what may be the 1942 world series contestants—New York Yankees vs. Brooklyn Dodgers—goes on display today for the sixth time this season with the Durocher clan holding a three-to-two lead in games. The Dodgers gained the edge by walloping the Yanks, 13-9 in an old-fashioned slugging match with Joe DiMaggia clouting a pair of homers and Arky Vaughn contributing five hits in as many times at bat.

Boxing Bouts Saturday Night To Benefit Boys In Camp

Westminster college students augmented by persons who like amateur boxing, will crowd into the college gymnasium Saturday night to witness seven bouts for the aid of boys in camp. Axe fought rececntly in The Arena and up to the time he was defeated looked impressive.

Some years ago Westminster had two exponents of the manly art of self-defense. One was Jack Hulme, attached to the training of athletes, and the other a student, Pal Kansas, who was well known in Youngstown and New Castle rings.

FAIR OR FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 9.—A big blond fellow with a cigaret perpetually hanging from his lips and with those tough, lean years of maddening frustration behind him will attempt with his great drives, his final all-around game and with what is known in sports parlance as a fighting heart to successfully defend the Masters golf championship here beginning tomorrow. This would be Craig Wood.

This is the broad-beamed gent who last year became the first man ever to win the open and the masters in the same year, and the same man, too, who rested during the past winter because of a back ailment and a determination to repeat here. He's ready, despite the fact that Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson and Sam Snead are the established favorites, leaving Wood back with the next group of possibilities.

Hogan Or Nelson

I personally think that Hogan or Nelson must win this event this time. I don't see how they can miss on past performances during the recent winter swing. They're hot; they know this course as well as Wood does and they have the advantage of a winter of golf. As to the latter, the one thing that may be against them is the possibility of their being over-golfed.

Nevertheless, we're talking about Mr. Wood, one of golfdom's finer people and a truly greater competitor. All he needs is a few breaks to go with his sound game, and he will be the man again.

This is one of the many monuments that Wood has left behind him in his career of everlasting trying, only to cash in almost at the finish of his golfing lifetime.

It was here at the masters that he once virtually had it all won only to lose to Gene Sarazen in a playoff after the latter hot-shot the now famous double eagle in the rain to go on to a tie. That was in the second masters tournament in 1935. He also was runner-up in the first tournament here, in 1934, when Horton Smith won, then last year he came through on top.

Wood Good Golfer

Wood is one of the old guard. One of those who were around in the heyday of Bobby Jones, who is host here but never a serious threat in his own tournament which brings him out of retirement once a year for competition. In fact, Wood is four months older than Jones but in the latter's superlative campaign on the links never finished anywhere near the leaders.

But he is still going and going strong as his record last year will prove in his wins here and in the U. S. open, while Jones is washed up and out of it all.

The gallery can bet on one thing and that is this: Mr. Wood will try gamely. If he gets off to a bad start against the hot games of Hogan, Nelson and the rest he never will figure. But if he can get in a good opening round he will be worth a glance or two the rest of the way until he finally is in—with the title again—or counted out.

After the way he won the open at Fort Worth last year, with his back trussed up because of an injury and with his wife at home back in the east because neither of them thought he had a chance, he can do anything.

But I personally still like Hogan, who never has won the masters, or even taken runner-up money, and Nelson, who was the champion in 1937. They are the guys that Champion Wood and the rest will have to beat.

Big Ten Schools Plan To Conduct Obstacle Courses

Course Planned To Train Students In Preparation For Military Service

(International News Service)

EVANSTON, Ill., April 9—K. L. Wilson, director of athletics at Northwestern university, said today he believed all members of the Western Conference would construct obstacle courses this year for the training of students in preparation for possible military service.

The obstacle courses presumably would be of uniform type, including a 10-foot trench, an eight-foot wall, hurdles, hedges and other obstructions. Wilson said students from each of the Big Ten schools could compete in telegraphic meets.

It was considered likely that Northwestern university would make an appropriation for such a course since the ninth naval district will open a school on the Evanston campus for 1,000 radio technicians and the course would be available to both students and sailors.

The subject is expected to be discussed at the spring meeting of the conference faculty committee in Evanston May 15 and 16, with a possibility action may be taken at that time.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

The following words that you will find in the little poem were written by a son of Uncle Sam's Navy . . . the board of governors for this portion of this column passed it so here it is:

"MAMA'S BOY"

You say he can't stand the Navy,
The life is too rough for him,
Do you think he is so much better
Than some other Mother's boy Jim?

You brought him up like a baby,
He wouldn't smoke or drink, is your brag,
If all the others were like him,
Well, what would become of your flag?

You say, let the rough necks do the fighting,
They are used to the beans and the stew,
I thank God that I am classed with the rough necks
Who can fight for the red, white and blue.

You say that his girl couldn't stand it,
To send him out there with the rest
Do you think she will be glad he enlisted
When she feels the Huns breath on her breast?

You can thank God the stars in Old Glory
Aren't blurred with any such stains,
Because there's a half-million rough necks
Who carry red blood in their veins.

They go out to sea in bad weather,
Come in with a grin on their face,
While your darling sits in the parlor
And let a man fight in his place.

You are right we do smoke and gamble
But we fight as our forefathers did
So go warm the milk for his bottle
While we fight to protect your kid.

BO OH YEAH! BY FRANK BECK

Reporter Finds Speeding On Wooden Tires Is Like Riding A Roller-Coaster

By WALTER GELB
International News Service
Staff Correspondent

BROOKLINE, Mass. — Wooden tires—at 25 miles an hour—feel and sound like a goat-cart powered with 75 horsepower.

But they'll get you where you're going and not uncomfortably at that.

The inventor of one model of wooden tires, Harry H. Johnson took me for a 15 mile ride today over streets that variously were smooth, bumpy, up-hill and damp. He had no trouble starting, stopping or stepping on the gas.

In fact, at greater speeds the bumps disappeared and we might have been riding a roller-coaster, except that wood isn't quite as noisy.

Useful During Emergency

Johnson acknowledged that wood tires would never permanently replace rubber, but for the duration his motto is "Keep 'em rolling as well as flying." He believes they could be used to keep dairy, bread and other delivery trucks on the road.

Farmers might find them particularly suited for driving across soft, ploughed fields. Made of oak, or similar hard wood, they'll last "almost forever," Johnson said.

He has already submitted several models to the National Inventor's Council, which is now awaiting results of actual tests. Johnson has already driven 350 miles and expects to submit his findings soon.

Tube Prevents Chipping

"I've jumped six-inch curbs, knocked them around about as much as I could, but my special 'inner tube' of oil, sawdust and water keeps the wood always moist and prevents chipping," he explained.

The tires are made of eight sections of wood, four on a side, with each section overlapping halfway to the oppsite side. They're held together by wooden pins that are driven in like wedges of an arch.

A hollow circular canal is left open between the tire and rim into which Johnson pours a mixture of saw-dust, old oil and water through the valve-opening to keep the wood moist. This prevents shrinking or loosening of the planks.

An Added Luxury

As an added luxury, Johnson has just added a circular strip of old, useless rubber casing but he suggested that "bacon-strips" of rubber might be inserted in several places around the tire to "cushion" the ride.

Several manufacturers already are dickering with him for manufacturing rights, Johnson claimed the tires can be produced easily and then mounted in 20 minutes.

"Well," said Johnson as he drove off, "now I have to protect my tires from termites."

President Calls For Observance Of Mothers' Day

Designates Sunday, May 10, As Mothers' Day, Asks For Flag Display

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—President Roosevelt Wednesday called upon the people of the United States to "express the love and reverence which we feel for the mothers of our country" on May 10, Mothers Day.

It was recalled that President Wilson, in designating the second Sunday in May as Mother Day on May 8, 1914, attested that "the service rendered the United States by the American mother is the greatest source of the country's strength and inspiration."

The president's proclamation called upon government officials to display the flag on all government buildings on that day and urged the people to display the flag at home and at other suitable places.

Long Blackout At Los Angeles

Entire Metropolitan District Under Blackout For Unknown Reason

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—The Los Angles area returned to normal today after the entire metropolitan district, including city and suburbs, underwent a two-hour blackout last night.

The blackout began promptly at 9:03 p. m., P. W. T., following the sounding of an air raid alarm, and ended shortly before 11 o'clock.

No cause for the sounding of the alarm was given by military or civil authorities. There was no firing of anti-aircraft batteries such as took place during the city's blackout February 25.

As far as could be determined there were no planes flying overhead last night although the police bureau of war activities was deluged with calls from West Los Angeles residents who reported hearing aircraft.

Objectives of the terrific anti-aircraft battery fire February 25 have never been officially identified. Virtually the whole Los Angeles region went dark immediately after last night's air raid alarm, although wardens arrested two men suspected of starting a brush fire in San Fernando Valley during the lights-out period.

Radio stations were off the air and the streets were cleared of motor traffic except for a few motorists whom police found it necessary to stop.

Mercer Students Asked To Spend Summer Farming

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Apr., 9—Mercer county public school students will be asked to spend their summer vacations this year working on farms. Arrangements are being made by the Mercer County War Board to fill an acute shortage of farm labor by drafting students, mostly high school age, from schools in practically every community of the county for work on farms.

An executive committee composed of A. C. Sproat, agricultural vocation adviser of county schools; C. G. Moyer, supervisor of Federal Farm Security and M. B. Orr, secretary of the Mercer County Agricultural Conservation committee, will distribute questionnaires among farmers of the county to determine the exact needs for labor this year and the amount of wages that can be paid.

Questionnaires also will be distributed in schools of the county to determine how many students will be available for assignments to farm work for the Summer vacation or permanently. The committee will be assisted by the employment agency and all students who are not otherwise employed for the Summer vacation will be urged to accept farm employment.

The committee also will endeavor to direct all other available labor to farms for the Summer months and harvest season.

A soap by any other name might smell as sweet.

Soap is the common word for cutaneous detergent.

Cutaneous means skin—detergent is a cleansing agent.

In many types of work soap alone does not remove dirt.

Strong alkaline soaps, oil or oil solvents are needed.

These often cause skin irritation or dermatitis.

Skin is not the last boundary between man and his environment.

There is a film, known as "sebum," covering most of the skin.

"Sebum" is secreted by the glands in the skin.

It is a semi-fluid substance of fat and other particles.

Strong soaps give an after-feeling of dryness.
